Cordial Greetings

There never has been a Homecoming when alumni and former students could see so many changes taking place on the campus as can be seen just now. I refer especially to the Arts Building which is nearing completion, and the Auditorium-Music Building which is well along. These two buildings are costing approximately $2,000,000.00. The value of these buildings as instruments to be used in our program can be told only on several pages.

Since the last Homecoming, the College has initiated the training of high school teachers; several certificates have been granted. The College now trains teachers for all the levels of the schools and principals, and provides one year of graduate work in education as well as four years of arts and sciences. And one should not forget the junior college.

The enrollment this fall is 1,525, and there are reasons for believing that the enrollment next year will be larger. The number of students in teacher education is very significant.

The students have planned the Homecoming events in an excellent manner. I hope our visitors are numerous and I hope they may enjoy every moment while here.

Cordial greetings to all!

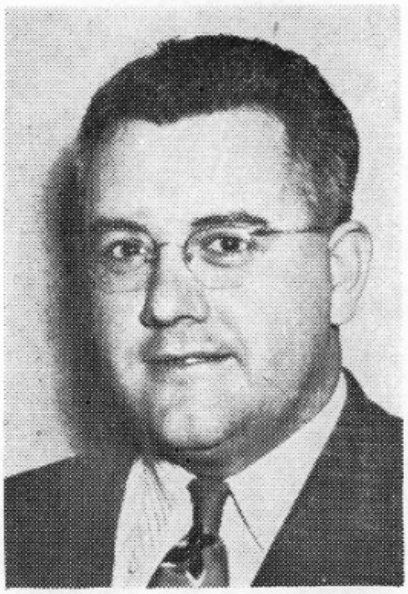

W. W. HAGGARD,
President.

Greater Things Ahead

This Homecoming marks the beginning of Western's second fifty year period. We have had a wonderful fifty years and we know we are going on to greater things this next period. Former students and present students have good cause to be proud of our College for its service to the community, to the educational phase on a national scale, for its ever widening horizon of opportunity for our young citizens.

On behalf of the Associated Students, I extend a cordial welcome to the visiting alumni. We hope you enjoy being here with us Homecoming, 1949. We are glad to have you here.

WILLIAM B. JONES,
President Associated Students.

Warm Welcome Extended

In behalf of the Homecoming committee chairmen we extend a warm welcome to all grads and former students who, this year, have returned to attend Western's "Voyagers' Homecoming."

We want you to feel welcome at each and every Homecoming event and we hope that you will take an active part and interest in them. We ask this because we sincerely want you to completely enjoy yourselves on our campus so that this 1949 Homecoming will be an event long to be remembered.

May we suggest that while you are visiting on the campus that you inspect the new arts building and the new auditorium-music building.

We sincerely hope that the combined efforts of the Homecoming committees and the faculty have succeeded in making this year's Homecoming an enjoyable experience for everyone.

BARBARA HODGES,
JOHN HILL,
1949 Homecoming Co-chairmen.

She Reigns With Beauty

Surrounded by a bevy of beautiful girls is this year's football captain, Norm Hash. Doreen Dangerfield, this year's Homecoming Queen, is second from the right. Reading from left to right the girls are: Pat Peterson, junior princess; Pat Bornstein. Norm, Doreen Dangerfield and Meredith Runestrand, senior princess. Mildred Peter is sophomore class princess, and Eleanor Lycan the freshman princess.

Since the first Queen Sigrid ascended her throne, many changes have taken place in our college. One of them is the new system for electing our Homecoming queen. Previous to this year any candidate from all four classes was eligible to be queen, but by the new system only a junior or senior may be elected.

Queen Sigrid XII was elected for her personality, charm, popularity, and lastly beauty. She will reign over this 1949 Homecoming with dignity and grace, greeting students of early years, students of not long ago, and students of more recent years.

This Homecoming Queen Sigrid XII will ascend to the lineage of Sigrids, all of whom have gone forth into the world carrying the scepter of royalty from our Alma Mater. Her lineage traces back to 1938 when Queen Sigrid I, BETTY SHAY (Mrs. Wm. Schaefor), first ascended the Homecoming throne. Following her were:

Sigrid II—MARGARET FULLER (Mrs. Margaret Fuller Douglas)
Sigrid III—LUCILLE THUM (Mrs. Teller)
Sigrid IV—BERNICE MONSON (Mrs. James W. Hall)
Sigrid V—NORMA CALBON (Mrs. Richardson)
Sigrid VI—MARIE EINES—teaching
Sigrid VII—MARJORIE SINNETT (Mrs. Marley)
Sigrid VIII—ELAINE DAHLGREN (Mrs. Cadwallader)
Sigrid IX—JEANNE LANDERS—teaching
Sigrid X—CLAIRE WILSON—teaching
Sigrid XI—DOLORES YORK (Mrs. Lauren Brown)

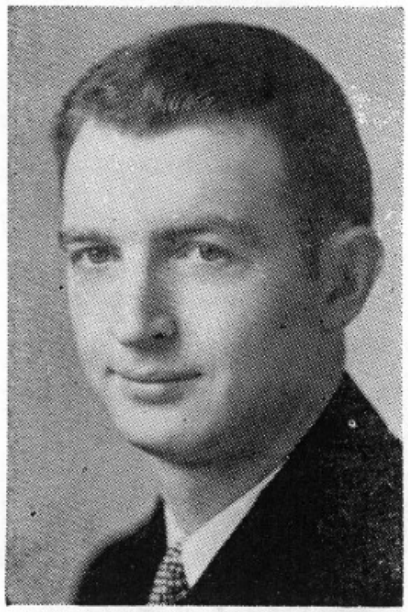

Homecoming is a time for happy memories associated with our college, and this Homecoming, with our lovely Queen Sigrid XII reigning, will be a happy memory for all of us.

Western's Contribution

Homecoming is steeped in tradition and rich in lore; it is the tradition which allows old graduates to return to the scenes of their former glory.

After friendships have been renewed, the important thing on everyone's mind is whether Western will win the annual football game. For the winning of this game enhaces and completes a Homecoming celebration as no other event could possibly do.

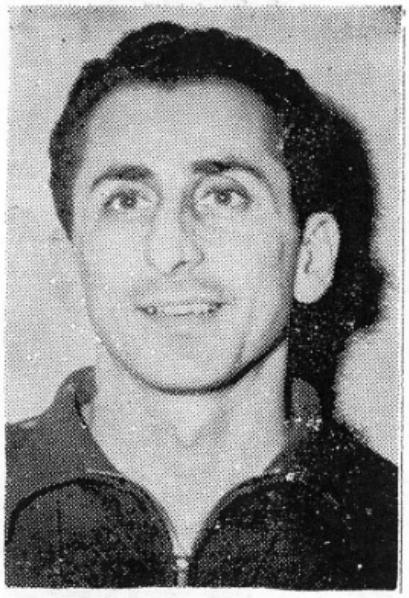

Taking a broader view of the entire picture, we could include not only Western, but all the high schools, junior colleges and large universities; and we could see the importance of eleven men to their respective schools. The combining of eleven men into a football machine, well trained, well disciplined and well deployed, takes a master of the theories of football. Western's athletic department prides itself on the achievements made by many of its former pupils in the coaching profession throughout the country. These men, many of whom are back today, are examples of the background received in coaching at Western.

BILL AMES

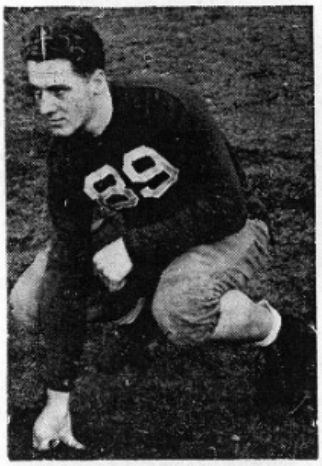

Promising young athletes who desire to enter the coaching field after completion of their playing years would benefit greatly by coming to Western. They would be able to play four years of "High Grade" football in the Evergreen Conference, under conditions favorable to both the intellectual and physical sides of life. Upon completion of their playing years they could rest assured that the athletic department will do everything in its power to assure them a position in the coaching field. This is an interesting point for alumni to remember as they talk over college plans with young high school athletes.

As examples of the type of men who are products of Western's athletic department, we could make a short trip around the State and pick a few names at random. The first person noticed will be Bill Ames, President of the Association of High School Coaches for the State of Washington. Bill is head basketball coach at Whiteriver. He played Varsity football from 1934 through 1937, as well as basketball.

JOE MOSES

to Coaching Is Immense

HOWARD JONES IN HIS PLAYING DAYS

Joe Moses is head basketball coach at Longview. He has been head coach for three years and has taken two teams to the State tournament. Joe played basketball from 1936 through 1939. Howard Jones is active in the school system of Bellingham. His last year of competition was in 1938. He is Assistant Athletic Director at Bellingham high school.

Moving a little way from Bellingham, we could find Bob Tisdale, the head football coach at Mt. Baker High School. Bob played from 1936 through 1939. He has the distinction of completing fifteen out of eighteen passes in half of a ball game in 1938, which would seem to be some kind of record. Going south to Sedro-Woolley, we could find head coach Art Bagley, who was Lappenbusch's first quarterback in 1933. He also played some football for Sam Carver.

Outside the State of Washington, we could find Alex Mitchell, head coach in New Jersey, who played in 1935 through 1938. Jim Hollingsworth, a Captain in the service, is now teaching the Japanese how to play football.

To go on to other players, we could find Roy Franko, who was manager and tackling dummy for the 1941 football team. Roy is now head coach at Ferndale. To go back to last year's team, we could find Tom Poe, assistant coach at Renton. Going further back into the record, we find that most of the players who played in the past, before 1933, are now principals or superintendents in school systems. The pattern seems to be to follow coaching for a number of years and then to break into the position of principal or superintendent.

Besides being an excellent runner, blocker and tackler, Cruzen shines when it comes to kicking points after touchdowns.

During the first four games of the 1949 campaign Bob has had 14 chances and has split the uprights 11 times. He also has three touchdowns to his credit, making a total of 29 points. Cruzen has the overall record of 41 out of 52 extra point kicks since 1946.

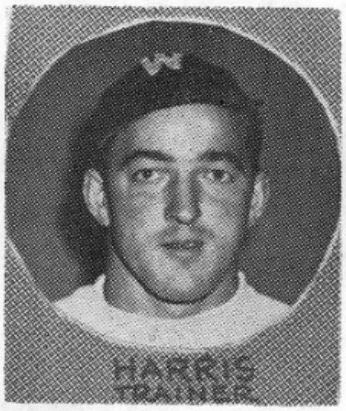

Head Coach Lappenbusch and Staff

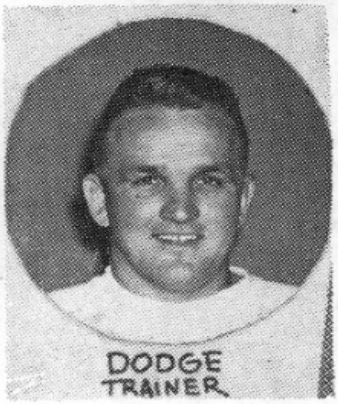

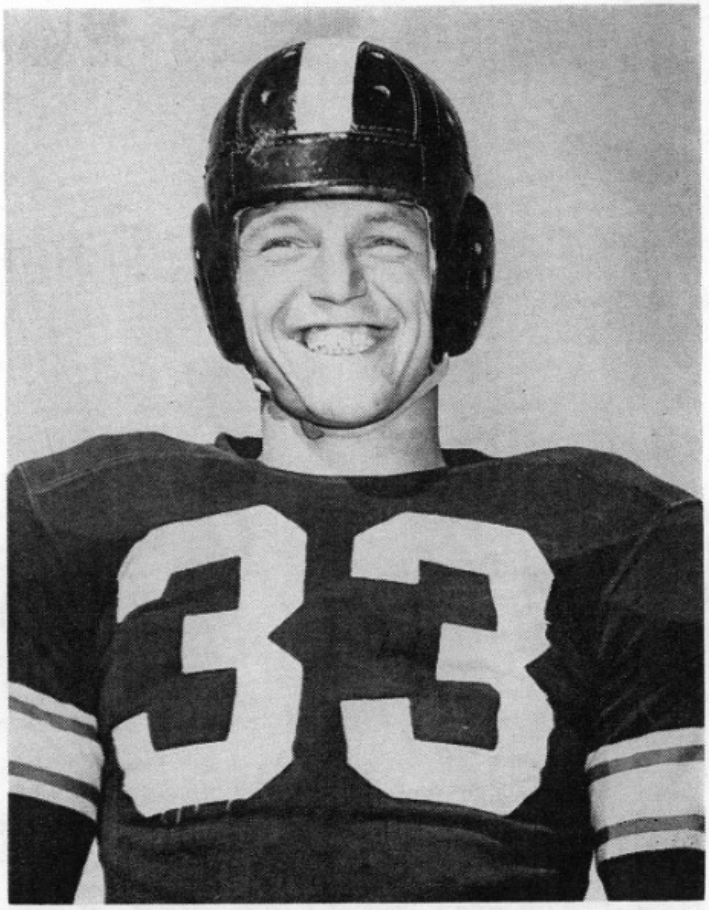

CHARLES F. LAPPENBUSCH

Coach Lappenbusch has molded this years football squad into the fighting group to be seen against Whitworth. Assisting him in this tremendous job were Ray Ciszek, Assistant Coach; Ron Dodge, trainer, and Al Harris, also a trainer. These men are proud, and rightfully proud, of the fine group of players they direct. The consensus of opinion, in this group, seems to be optimism on the Vikings' chances.

Vern Tucker is Whitworth's game captain for today. The ace left halfback is the Whit leading scorer with 30 points in four games this fall. Many observers feel Vern is the hardest running back on the coast.

Tucker has this to say on the Homecoming game. "On behalf of my fellow teammates I am happy for the friendly rivalry between Whitworth and Western. Our games have been clean but hard fought. We would like to give our best wishes for a Happy Homecoming . . . All except a football victory."

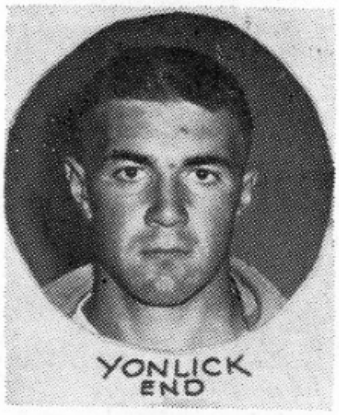

Now a senior playing his fourth season for the Pirates, Tucker has won All-Conference honors at Whitworth since his freshman year in 1946. In 1947 he was selected on the Associated Press Little All-Coast second team. He was also All-Winco that year, and last fall was named All-Evergreen back, though he was able to play in only six of the nine games.
