13th ANNUAL SHRINE FOOTBALL GAME

WWSC VIKINGS

vs.

CWSC WILDCATS

SATURDAY, SEPT. 16, 1967

CIVIC FIELD

Dear Friends:

Again this year you are making possible the presentation of our annual football game, but more important . . . your support, and the generous support of the sponsors listed on the following pages of this program, assure continuance of contributions to the Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children.

We are sure that all of you share with the "Shrine" a great deal of pride in being associated in supporting such fine institutions, and it has been appropriately stated that, "No Man Stands So Straight as One Who Stoops to Help a Crippled Child."

This is particularly true in the case of supporters of the Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children, where crippled bodies of unfortunate kiddies are restored without charge and regardless of race, color, or creed.

To the fine young players of Western's Vikings, Central's Wildcats, and their respective coaches who participated in tonight's events, and to all others who have contributed so liberally of their time, talent, energy and money—

We are deeply grateful.

Sincerely,

Members of the Northwest Shrine Club.

FACTS AND FIGURES . . . in the Operation of the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children

Children under 14 whose parents are unable to pay for treatments — regardless of race, color or religion — are eligible for admittance. Over 250,000 Children Have Been Cured or Materially Helped.

Central Outlook

Tom Parry, the NAIA District 1 Coach of the Year in his CWSC debut, plans what he calls "subtle changes" to improve last year's 2-5-2 record. He'll use the slot-T offense which moved the ball well by mid-season last year producing an average of better than 26 points a game in the last five outings.

The attack again will be centered around the passing of senior quarterbacks Skip Rais and Butch Hill, the catching of ends Howard Hosley and Jim Deatherage and the running of 205-pound Vince Brown, Steve Hertling and Ron Hoiness.

The addition of Hill, who announced intentions of passing up his final year of eligibility, and then changed his mind, and Hoiness, who sat out last year after being the leading 'Cat rusher in '65, gives Parry a nucleus of 19 lettermen on his roster.

The others are ends Jim Gray and Dan Peacock, tackle Bob McNamee, guards John McKinstry, Jerry Abbott and Dave Coffman, centers Mike Noski and Brad Riggs and backs Dennis Esser, Don Wilkins, Steve Peone and Stew Egbert.

Defensively, Central remains a question mark. The secondary remains intact—Hertling, Wilkins, Hosley and Esser, an All-Evergreen Conference choice—and that should be an asset. Ditto the return of Brown, a rugged linebacker.

The big headache is assembling a defensive line that can hold up and finding linebackers to replace the graduated Phil Harvey and Don Hazen, an All-Evergreen Conference performer on both offense and defense.

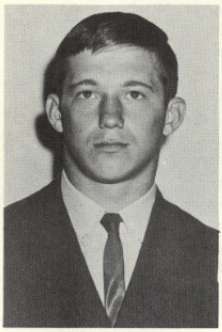

Two other all-star performers are gone: tackle Larry Warwick and halfback Jim Brunaugh. The loss of fullback Gary Peone and linemen Jerry Rerecich, Ed Reich and Paul Alexander also could be felt.

Most of the slack probably will be taken up by junior college transfers — about 20 are expected to report, including seven from Wenatchee Valley College where Parry served as coach and athletic director before moving to Central.

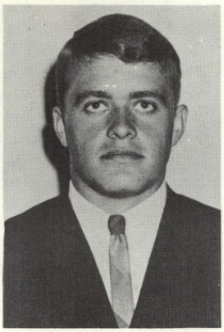

Parry will be assisted this year by John Pearson (Idaho, 1958), Gary Frederick (CWSC, 1955) and Walter (Spike) Arlt (WSU, 1960). Three-time All-Evergreen Conference quarterback Phil Fitterer (CWSC, 1963) will work with the freshman squad.

Viking Prospectus

Strong first team, but lacking in depth. This describes the 1967 Vikings of Western Washington State College as they begin their second year under head coach Fred Emerson. Last year the Big Blue compiled a 3-4-2 mark while finishing fourth in the tough Evergreen Conference.

Coach Emerson had only 13 returning lettermen among his 60 candidates on the opening day of practice. Of these, nine are seniors who will be participating in their last season of college football. Two juniors and two sophomores complete the sparse felt winner turnout.

A fine year is forecasted for Western's three returning All-Evergreen Conference selections. Senior Al Divina was named to the offensive squad as a tackle while sophomore Jack Dolan and senior Dave Weedman were honored at guard and defensive end positions on the EvCo "stop" squad. Receiving honorable mention and returning this year are Pat Brewin and Monty Montgomery. Brewin as a quarterback on offense and safety on defense and Montgomery as an offensive guard and defensive linebacker.

At quarterback the Viks have possibly the best in the conference, senior Pat Brewin. Brewin last year passed for over 800 yards, most late in the season when he changed to a straight dropback pass instead of rolling out. Behind him will be three new faces, as all of last year's back-up QBs are gone. Freshman Arnie Osterhaus seems like a real prospect with University of Washington transfer Ron Lealos and frosh Glenn Hadland also ready for signal calling duty.

This year's backfield will be completely revamped. Top task will be the finding of replacements for graduated halfbacks Tom Guglomo and NAIA All-American Steve Richardson. Bob Unick, who saw action at fullback last season, will see duty at a halfback slot along with Al Anderson. Both are seniors. Anderson saw limited duty last year. At fullback, Russ Lee, a junior, will be given a shot along with freshman John Weaver and sophomore Joe Parker. Weaver looks like a real comer.

Coach Emerson will field a fine offensive line, although it will be lacking in depth. At tackles will be 230 pounders Jack Dolan and Butts Giraud or 220 pound Bob Penny. The guard slots can be filled by seniors Monty Montgomery (210) and Al Divina (200) or junior stalwarts Fred Sundquist (210) and Neil Combelic (210). John Martin, a 205 pound freshman, will be a center starter. He will be backed up by Dennis Teague (200) and Don Harney (215).

Tom Schmidt and Gary McCauley, along with Leon Benek, will fight it out for the tight end position. All are seniors. Gary Aagaard, a freshman speedster, will be given first consideration at split end. Competition will come from sophomores Jerry Turner and Rick Harder.

The Viks defensive line will have some of its members going both ways. Little All-American candidate, Dave Weedman, will be one of the defensive ends. Weedman was named for the second straight year to the All-EvCo squad last year. He was also selected to the Washington State Coaches All-Star squad and the Associated Press All-Northwest team.
