Tonight's Game

WESTERN WASHINGTON STATE VS. SOUTHERN OREGON COLLEGE

This evening the Western Washington State College football team makes its final home appearance of the 1973 season against resurging Southern Oregon College (SOC).

The Red Raiders, after losing their first two starts, have come back to win three of their last four games. They are 3-3 overall and 2-2 in Evergreen Conference (Evco) play.

Western is looking for its second victory of the year. The Vikings have dropped three straight games since upsetting Oregon College 19-15. They are 1-5 on the year and 1-3 in league action.

Last week Southern Oregon defeated Whitworth College 10-7 as place-kicker Greg Enright booted a 25-yard field goal with 1:06 remaining in the game.

Enright has kicked five of seven field goal attempts successfully this season, the longest a 49-yarder against Oregon Tech two weeks ago to set a new Evco record.

Quarterbacking coach Scott Johnson's team is junior Marty Zottola. Last year he ranked 11th nationally among NAIA passers, averaging 181.8 yards per game. This season Zottola has thrown for 615 yards, completing 56 of 124 passes, but has had 12 intercepted.

The loss of standout receivers Jack Postell (32 receptions for 491 yards) and Bruce Workman (43 receptions for 61 yards) via graduation has hurt the Red Raider air attack. This fall Zottola has been directing most of his throws to slotback Mike Snyder, who has caught 24 for 327 yards.

Though the SOC running game is ranked at the bottom of the league, tailback Ken Johnson is third among Evco individual rushers with 431 net yards.

The stalwart of the Southern Oregon offensive line is guard Gary Gurley, an all-conference pick last season.

On defense the Red Raiders lead the league in stopping the pass, giving up only 94.2 yards per game through the air. End Dennis Webber has twice been named Evco player-of-the-week. Cornerback Gary Jantzer received the honor this past week as he intercepted two passes against Whitworth, returning one 42 yards for a touchdown, the other setting up Enright's game-winning three-pointer.

Two breakdowns, a blocked punt and a long touchdown pass, cost the Vikings in their 14-7 loss to Eastern Oregon College last week. Another contributing factor was Western's failure to take advantage of mistakes made by the Mountaineers.

Coach Boyde Long had praise for his entire defensive unit, singling out end Eugene Piazza and inside linebackers Chris Johnson and Pat Sencenbaugh for outstanding efforts.

In all, the Viking stop squad held EOC to 209 yards, far below the Mounties' 330 yard average going into the contest.

Western's offense has yet to jell. The Vikings' had one scoring drive of 80 yards against Eastern capped by quarterback Tom Luehmann's 14-yard TD pass to slotback Barney Thompson.

Tailback Carlos Warren is second in conference rushing with 580 yards, a 4.8 per carry average. Thompson leads the team in pass-receiving with 13 grabs for 165 yards. The Des Moines junior has also returned 14 kickoffs for 257 yards.

Though Luehmann has called the signals the last four games, Long has indicated that either Bill Mendelson or Jay overway may get the starting assignment tonight in an attempt to get the attack rolling.

The game this evening will be the last home encounter for 16 Western seniors. They are Brett Bennett, Jeff Carroll, Randy Cline, Ted Dix, Jack Dolan, Kevin Halliburton, Willie Herdener, Chris Johnson, Buck Kittelson, Steve McCully, Tim Mead, Don Merz, Pat Sencenbaugh, John Smith, Carlos Warren and Tom Wigg.

Time has turned the football from something that looked like a medicine ball's little brother into a leather bullet. Quarterbacks don't need hands the size of a catcher's mitt to toss a bomb and showboat backs can carry it like a loaf of bread. It's a better ball. It was just a matter of time.

All that early football shoes were good for was keeping the players' feet out of the mud. They weighed a ton and were guaranteed to slip. The steel toes must have helped the kickers, however. Then someone got smart and hammered some nails in the bottoms and the cleat was born. The newest kind are so fancy that the cleats release to protect the players' knees. It's a better shoe. It was just a matter of time.

First it was bare heads and lots of hair. And concussions and cauliflower ears. Next came a helmet that could double as head gear for the Red Baron. Still noses got broken and teeth got smashed. Today's helmets could probably stand a direct hit by mortar fire and the face mask keeps the dental bills down. There's even a new helmet that uses air suspension. It's a better helmet. It was just a matter of time.

And taking time is what Slow Brewed Heidelberg Beer is all about. Because time is what makes Heidelberg better. A longer, more costly brewing process gives Heidelberg its light, naturally-refreshing flavor. It's a better beer. It's a matter of time.

Heidelberg.

It takes longer to be better.

WESTERN WASHINGTON "VIKING" FOOTBALL HISTORY

Western Washington State College is celebrating its Diamond Anniversary during the 1973-74 school year. This fall an added highlight may be in the offing as the Viking football team takes aim at securing all-time victory number 200. The 1973 season began with Western's overall record standing at 196-180-24.

Football began at Western in 1903, four years after the school, known as Whatcom State Normal, was founded in 1899. Normal played two games in that initial season under coach R. W. Greene, losing to Anacortes High School 6-5 in their opener and defeating Everett High School 12-0.

The following year Normal won all three of its games, but did not field a team the next two years until John O'Sullivan became coach in 1907. That same year the school's name changed to Bellingham State Normal. Teams were put out the next three years before another lapse occured from 1910 until 1912. Dr. Turner took over as head coach in 1913 and compiled a 2-2-1 record.

The following year Sam Carver, the "father of Western athletics", became head coach. He remained in that capacity, except for a one year leave of absence, until 1933.

In 1916 Normal compiled a 6-1 record, outscoring its opponents 292-42. Victories were registered over Ferndale HS 80-0, Anacortes HS 50-0, Everett HS 25-7, Anacortes All-stars 6-0 and twice over the College of Puget Sound, 46-0 and 78-14. The lone loss was to the Mount Vernon Athletic Club 21-7.

With the outbreak of World War I, no teams were fielded from 1917 to 1921.

Two milestones were passed in 1923 as Waldo Field was completed on campus and the nickname "Vikings" was officially adopted. That season Normal won the Tri-Normal league championship with a 3-0-2 record.

Chuck Lappenbusch became head coach in 1933. The next year Bellingham Normal became Western Washington College of Education.

In 1938 the Vikings enjoyed their greatest gridiron campaign. Undefeated and untied, finishing 7-0, Western won the first championship of the newly formed Western Intercollegiate Conference. Two outstanding quarterbacks, Howard Jones and Bob "Buck" Tisdale, directed the team to victories over St. Martin's 6-3, Fort Lewis 20-7, Oregon College 13-0, Univ. of Washington frosh 6-0, Central Washington 13-6, Pacific Lutheran 33-14 and Eastern Washington 7-0.

It was during the Lappenbusch era also that Western began playing its home games at Battrsby Field in Bellingham. World War II interupted play from 1943 to 1945.

In 1948 Western became a charter member of the Evergreen Conference (Evco). A year later Lappenbusch introduced his nationally famous straight-line philosophy football and fullback Norm Hash became the Vikings' first All-American.

Lappenbusch's new theory began to show results in 1950 as Western finished 7-2-1, second in the league. Linebacker Everett Tiland earned All-America honors.

Western had its finest season since 1938 in 1951 as the Vikings finished 8-1, tieing for the Evco championship. Defensively Western was ranked ninth in the nation and Hash was accorded All-America recognition for the second time as the Vikings outscored their opponents 282-57.

John Kulbitski, an assistant for a number of years under Lappenbusch, became head coach in 1956. Two years later his Vikings tied for the Evco title with a 6-2 mark. All-America halfback Fred Emerson led the team. The year before he had rushed for an unheard of 8.3 yards per carry average.

In 1960 Jim Lounsberry was named head coach and a year later the now Western Washington State College began playing its home games at Bellingham Civic Stadium.

Emerson became the first alumni to be head football coach in 1966. During his first season on the hill, halfback Steve Richardson capped a brilliant career, earning NAIA All-America honors and being named to the All-Evco team on both offense and defense for the third consecutive season. He is the only Viking ever to have his jersey (No. 21) retired.

Defensive end Dave Weedman was picked to the NAIA All-America squad in 1967. The highlight of that season was the near upset of Eastern Washington State College, 26-21 at Cheney. The Savages went on to the NAIA championship game before suffering defeat.

Western tied for its third Evco title in 1969, defeating Eastern 19-16 in the famous "fog bowl" at Civic Stadium.

Boyde Long became head coach in 1970. In 1971 he directed the Vikings to their first outright Evco title and an overall 7-3 record.

A number of outstanding players have come forth in Long's three years as head coach. They include Glenn Hadland (all-time total offense 4703 yards and passer 4298 yards), 1968-71; Steve Jasmer (all-time pass-receiver 1462 yards), 1970-72; Vic Randall (all-time career 26 and season 9 interception leader), 1967-70 and most recently fullback Tom Wigg (all-time rusher 2638 yards), 1970-

BASKETBALL 1973-74

Losing his top three scorers of a year ago, including NAIA All-American guard Mike Franza (25.6), Western Washington State College basketball coach Chuck Randell nevertheless is predicting the Vikings will be in the NAIA national tournament next March.

And the Big Blue mentor is keeping the reason no secret. It is simply -- defense. Randell feels the 1973-74 Vikings are potentially the best stop squad he's coached. With his eleven previous Western teams, all winning ones, holding opponents to an average of 64.3 points a game, that's saying something.

But with one of the roughest schedules ever to face a Viking team, the defense had better be tough. The 26-game slate begins with eight straight away contests, including Seattle Pacific College, University of Puget Sound, Portland State University and the University of Idaho. Then its into always tough Evergreen Conference action.

Scoring slack must be taken up for graduated Franza, who holds 16 school records, guard Tom Mount (9.9) and post Mike Buza (9.2).

Returning starters are guard Chuck Price (6-2, Jr., Lynden) and post Dick Bissell (6-6, Jr., Bellevue). Price, the Vikings' top defensive ballplayer, scored 172 points, made 86 assists and grabbed 104 rebounds last year. Bissell was third among the northwest small college assist leaders (107) in 1972-73 and is looked to improve both in scoring and rebounding this season.

Jim Hotvet (6-2, Jr., Bremerton) and Craig Nicholas (6-4, Jr., Seattle) are top contenders for the other two guard positions. Jack Nicholas (6-4), a transfer from Bellevue Community College (BCC) where he averaged 12 points a game, is another prospect along with top performers on last year's junior varsity team, Jamie Greene (5-11, soph Spokane), Bob Hoefel (5-11, soph., Spokane), Ken Kelley (5-11, soph., Bellevue) and Steve Laws (6-2, soph., Winlock).

HEAD COACH: CHUCK RANDALL

The post positions are up for grabs with Bissell, Chuck Fisher (6-5, Sr., Alhambra, Calif.), Jim Dudley (6-5, Sr., Surrey B.C.) and Keith Lowry (6-4, Sr., Bellingham) returning. Two 6-7 transfers, Rob Vissar from Grays Harbor Community College and Chris Brown from BCC, are strong candidates along with JV hopefuls Randy Jorissen (6-5, soph., Lynden), Kent Sherwood (6-4, senior, Seattle) and brother Kim Sherwood (6-7, soph., Seattle).

A number of freshmen will be seeking varsity berths. Randall has recruited the best yearling group ever on the hill and a number of them could see varsity action. They include 6-7 Eric Anderson, Portland (Reynolds); 6-0 Wayne Anderson, Bellingham (Sehoma); 6-2 Ned Betty Twisp; 6-4 Mike Crocker, Bellingham (Sehoma); 6-4 Neil Kamphouse, Lynden (Lynden Christian); 6-2 Bob Reimer, North Bend (Mount Si) and 6-2 Gary Sterk, Everson (Nooksack Valley).

With this young and enthusiastic group of athletes, it is no wonder Randall can hardly wait for practice to begin on November 1.

Cross Country

TOM DUNCAN

NAIA District 1 and Evergreen Conference champions, undefeated in regular season action, 22nd at the NAIA national meet. Those were the accomplishments of the Western Washington State College cross-country team in 1972.

A tough act to follow for new head coach Ralph Vernacchia, but the outlook is bright for the 1973 Viking harriors with seven returning lettermen. They include Mike Cowan, (Edmonds); Tom Duncan, Seattle (Blanchet); Russ Fuller, Oak Harbor; Andy Herstrom, Tacoma (Lakes); Fred New, Rigefield and Will Rathvon, Richland. Duncan and New were named to the NAIA District 1 all-star team last fall.

Another returnee is Rich Rathvon, the twin brother of Will. Two top newcomers are Keith Cunningham from Orange Coast Community College and freshman Greg Wirtz, Lynnwood.
