TODAY'S GAME

WESTERN WASHINGTON vs. OREGON TECH

This afternoon the Western Washington State College football team begins its quest for an Evergreen Conference (Evco) championship, playing host to Oregon Institute of Technology at Civic Stadium.

"If we stay healthy and reach the potential I know we're capable of, we can go all the way," said head coach Boyde Long in anticipation of the league opener.

The Vikings are off to their best start since 1971 when they took the school's only outright Evco title.

Thus far this fall the Big Blue are 2-1 in non-conference action. After losing its opening contest to Lewis and Clark College 28-22, Western has come back to defeat Montana Tech 26-12 and the University of British Columbia 26-24 last Saturday.

The Viking offense is averaging 386 yards a game. Eight of the eleven attack-unit members are graduates of Whatcom County high schools. They include guard Rick Brudwick, split end Hoyt Gier and halfback Pat Locker, all from Ferndale; tackle Glenn Martin from Sehome, flankerback Jeff Potter from Mount Baker, fullback Jim Sterk and guard Scott Stokes, both from Nooksack Valley; and tight end Terry Veltkamp from Lynden Christian.

Locker leads the Evco and is ranked nationally (NAIA) in rushing, averaging 131.3 yards per game (394 total).

Gier is second among league pass-receivers, averaging 97 yards a contest (14 receptions for 291 yards), while Potter has six catches for 132 yards. Both of them have two touchdown grabs to their credit.

Quarterback Bill Mendelson has thrown for 517 yards, completing 27 of 58 attempts, including five for TD's. He also ranks among the passing leaders in the NAIA.

Completing the eleven are tackle Biff Moss and center Andy Harlin.

The defense has Rick Hall and Brad Hastings at tackles with Steve Breeden and Emil Whitman at ends.

Breeden recovered a UBC fumble with 1:22 left in the game after the Thunderbirds had marched to the Western 15 yard line to preserve the Viking victory.

The linebackers are Chuck Houser, Mike Marsden and Bob Taylor.

Taylor leads the team in tackles with 47 stops, while Houser is runnerup with 42 and has an interception and a fumble recovery to his credit.

In the secondary are Kevin Cochran, Tom Harmon, Mick Rehn and Pat Schuette.

Oregon Tech is 1-2 overall and 0-1 in league action after losing its conference opener to Southern Oregon State College 62-14 last Saturday. The Owls were tied 14-14 at the intermission of that contest before giving up to 48 second-half points to the powerful Red Raiders.

OIT defeated Pacific University 16-6 the previous week, while dropping a 20-0 decision to San Francisco State.

Coach Neil Garrett is rebuilding the gridiron program at the Klamath Falls, Ore.-based institution this season after finishing in last-place a year ago. The Owls tied for the conference crown in 1974.

The offense is under the direction of quarterback John Mathis. On the ground his top handoff threat is transfer fullback Kelvin Klink, while through the air his main target is split end Dale Hoy.

A freshman from Ferndale, Dean Irwin, is starting at a halfback slot for the Owls.

On defense the Techmen currently rank second in the Evco. The stop squad is led up front by 6-6, 255-pound middle guard Dean Schwartz, an all-conference selection, and 6-6, 240-pound tackle Orlen Loverin.

The brother combination of Pat and Jack Juhl will be at end and cornerback, respectively, for OIT.

Western and Oregon Tech have met six times previous to today's confrontation with the Vikings holding a 4-2 edge in the series. Last year the Big Blue took a 24-21 decision.

NEXT HOME GAME: WWSC vs. nationally-ranked Oregon College of Education on Oct. 16, 1:30 p.m.

WESTERN SEEKS FIFTH EVCO TITLE

In the fall of 1976, the Western Washington State College football team is looking to follow in the tradition of four other Viking gridiron squads that have won Evergreen Conference (Evco) championships since that loop's formation in 1948.

The first three of those crowns were shared as the Big Blue tied for first-place honors in 1951, 1958 and 1969. Western took its only outright title in 1971.

Charles Lappenbusch, as he was near the end of a long and successful tenure as pigskin mentor on the hill, coached the Vikings' first Evco champion team in 1951. Many consider that squad which swept to an 8-1 overall record and 4-1 league mark, the best in the school's history.

The '51 eleven ranked ninth nationallly among small colleges on defense, giving up only an average of 165 yards per game using Lappenbusch's famous "straight-line philosophy." They intercepted 17 passes, recovered a like number of fumbles and blocked six punts during the campaign.

Leading the defense were 250-pound middle guard, Art "Swede" Larsson, guard Buck Burger, tackle Al Cornett, end Pete Muir and guard Dick Pangallo.

The offense was keyed around fullback Norm Hash, who rushed for 590 yards and scored a school record 86 points that season. He was named to the Associated Press Little All-American team.

Eldon Odle and Don "Spud" Walley, who passed for 899 yards, manned the quarterback position. Also in the backfield were halfbacks Bill Karwacki and Roy Richardson, who made 18 receptions for 440 yards.

The Vikings' only loss was to Pacific Lutheran University (PLU) as they tied with the Knights and the University of Puget Sound (UPS) for the title. In outscoring its opponents 282-57, Western defeated Pacific University, University of British Columbia (UBC), Eastern Washington State College, UPS, Whitworth College and Central Washington State College.

It was Lappenbusch's top assistant in 1951, John Kulbitski, who was the head mentor when the Vikings got a share of their second Evco championship in 1958, this time tieing with Central Washington.

Western had a 6-2 season record and 4-1 league ledger, its only Evco loss coming to UPS. The Big Blue notched wins over Oregon College of Education (OCE), Whitworth, Eastern Washington, PLU, UBC and Central Washington. The only other Viking loss of the year was to Linfield College.

The offense was led by the brother quarterback-halfback combination of Fred and Tom Emerson, fullback Dennis Shepard and center Jack Sim.

TOM and FRED EMERSON

On defense, tackle Charlie Johnson, halfback Sam Martin, guard Ed Melbourne, who earned honorable mention Little All-American honors, and end Ron Storaasli were outstanding. Storaasli returned an interception 92 yards for the Vikings' only score in their win over Eastern Washington.

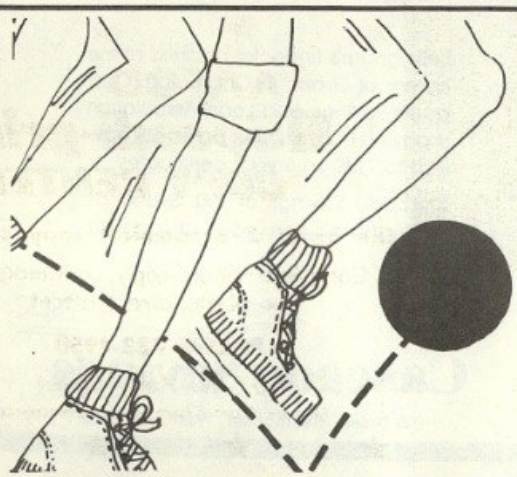

Not until eleven years later, in 1969, did Western tie for its third Evco crown, this time with Eastern Washington. Coaching the team was Fred Emerson, who had been a member of the '58 squad.

Though finishing with a 5-4 overall record, the Vikings were 4-2 in conference action. After opening with losses to Cal Poly-San Luis Obispo and Eastern Washington, they came back to defeat Central Washington, Whitworth, UBC, and Eastern Washington.

In the latter contest, quarterback Glenn Hadland threw a fourth-down, 14-yard touchdown pass to end Gary Aagaard with 1:14 remaining for the come-from-behind victory in the "fog bowl" at Civic Stadium. Most of the contest was played in a dense mist, which prevented the near-capacity crowd from observing much of the action.

Western then lost to Central Washington, but came back to defeat Whitworth to clinch a share of the title.

STAR SPANGLED BANNER

O, say, can you see
By the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hail
At the twilight's last gleaming

Whose broad stripes and bright stars
Through the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watched
Were so silently streaming?

And the rockets red glare
The bombs bursting in air
Gave proof through the night
That our flag was still there.

O, say, does that Star-Spangled
Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free
And the home of the brave.

Head Coach: BOYDE LONG

By BOB PASTIN
Sports Editor, Bellingham Herald

One of the more popular misconceptions about a coach in NAIA Division I football is that he spends two hours a day coaching and the other 22 figuring out why he does it.

Not Boyde Long. Division I and Western Washington State College suit him just fine.

Long, in his seventh season as the Viking mentor, knows what the college game is all about. He's been on both sides of the fence, as a player and coach, in NCAA and NAIA competition.

"Believe me," the 43-year-old coach noted, "coaching is a full-time job, no matter where you are. We spend about 18 hours a day at it here at Western—breaking down films, meeting with the team, practicing, recruiting . . . everything that a coach in a major school would do.

"Football is basically the same, no matter on which level it's played,' Long continued. "Naturally, many of the players on this level aren't quite as skilled as players in some of your major schools, but everything else is similar."

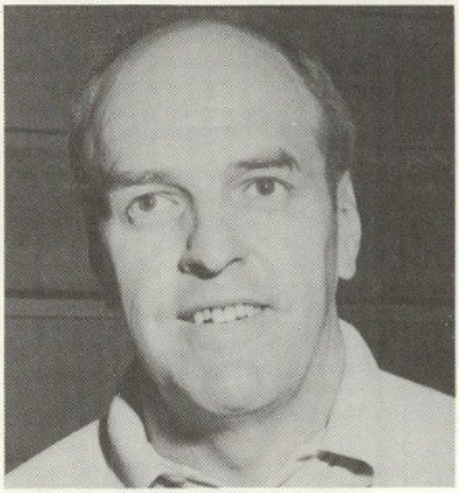

And Long should know. He made quite a name for himself as an NCAA player.

After a great athletic career at Highland High School in Albuquerque, N.M., where he was an All-State end and a state heavyweight wrestling champion, Long went on to become an All-Skyline Conference selection at the University of New Mexico.

After coaching three years on the high school level, in Albuquerque and Phoenix, Long moved to Oregon College of Education in 1965 and worked as an assistant coach in football and basketball, as well as head coach in wrestling and track.

In 1966, he came to Western Washington as head coach in wrestling and track and assistant in football.

Long has been Western's head football coach since 1970, compiling a 21-32-1 mark, including one league title (the school's first outright) in 1972 with a 6-0 league and 7-3 overall record. For that feat, he was named Evergreen Conference and NAIA District I Coach of the Year.

Long's basic football philosophy is fundamentalist, one of blocking and tackling. He realizes all the X's, O's and fancy formations won't work if the players can't block and tackle better than the people they're playing.

"You have to start with a solid defense," the Vik coach noted. "You have to keep opponents from controlling the football. And your offense should evolve around a good running game.

"We had it in the early-Seventies, and it paid off for us," he added. "We are trying to get back to where we have the sound defense as well as a good balance between running and passing on offense."

The Western Washington football program, according to Long, is on the upswing. "We have good, good young men here," he stated. "They're all hard workers.

"With young men like this," he added, "it isn't hard to maintain a positive outlook."

Despite the fact Western offers no athletic scholarships, Long is certain his current team's character will make the school a respectable force once more in the Evergreen Conference.

"You play and perform because you really enjoy it," he noted. "That's what it's all about, on any level. And that's why we do it. The players here understand the concept. They want to win."

And Long is working to see that situation comes about.

His average work day begins at 6 a.m. and ends around 10 p.m.

While most wives would flinch at a schedule like that, Long's wife, Mary, is understanding. She has a career of her own, as an elementary teacher in the Nooksack Valley School District.

"She's just super," Long said. We've been married 18 years. We understand each other."

Maybe a secret to that is the fact Long's a realist.

"I do the best I can," he noted. "I maintain the philosophy that whatever happens, happens.

"I don't have any problems getting to bed at nights," he laughed. "I don't have an ulcer. I really don't consider myself a worrier."

Coaches in major schools don't have the luxury of thinking along the same line.

Maybe that's why Boyde Long isn't itching to climb back over the fence.

Defense, the responsibility of Emerson's number one aide, Boyde Long, provided the key to many of the victories that season. Defensive standouts included tackle Butts Giraud, an honorable mention NAIA All-American choice, end Steve Gregorich, linebackers Scott "Rocky" Hughes and Jerry Kelly and safety Vic Randall.

BUTTS GIRAUD

VIC RANDALL

The offense was directed by two fine quarterbacks, Hadland, who passed for 783 yards, and Steve Kearby. Others who were outstanding were halfback Rob Lonborg, center John Martin and guard Marv Nelson.

Two years later, in 1971, with Long now the head coach, Western swept to its only outright Evco championship, going undefeated in six league games and 7-3 overall.

The offense, the most potent in the school's history, averaged 375 yards per game, led by Hadland, who passed for 1,475 yards. On the receiving end for 609 of those yards was split end Steve Jasmer. And when the Vikings went to a ground attack, fullback Tom Wigg was willing and able, rushing for 1,176 yards. All three of those marks are school records.

Nine of the Big Blue players were accorded honorable-mention NAIA All-American recognition, including linebacker Dan Grimshaw, defensive halfback Kevin Halliburton, Jasmer, defensive tackle Ken Knuckey, offensive guard Jeff Michaelson, Nelson, linebacker Mark Venn, Wigg and place-kicker Lance Wilson.

This year, the Vikings are looking for their fifth Evco championship. If the task is accomplished, names such as split end Hoyt Gier, defensive tackle Rick Hall, center Andy Harlin, quarterback Bill Mendelson, flankerback Jeff Potter, and others will be listed in future Western football annals.

Do-It-Yourself Stats

Every football fan knows that the score doesn't always give a good picture of a game. A few statistics, like those that can be kept on this page can make the picture clearer, show what the individual stars contribute and help to win post-game "debates." Besides, it can be fun to second guess the official scorers whose statistics will appear in tomorrow's papers. But before you start, here are some pointers on being a statistician:

1. Keep cumulative totals to be informed "up to the minute" and to simplify your figuring of team totals. Example: Jones gains 3, 6, 9, 2 yards and you write 3, 9, 18, 20 on his line.

2. On plays involving penalties measured from the point of the foul, credit the rusher or pass receiver with yardage only to the point of the infraction.

3. Charge gains and losses on fumbles to the player who, in your judgment, contributed most to the error.

4. Don't score two-point conversion attempts after touchdowns as rushing or passing plays.

HERE'S THE REAL GENERATION GAP.

The future energy needs of our children.

When they grow up, they'll be needing just as much or more electrical energy as we're using now. And since the economic status of the Northwest relates directly to power availability, our children's jobs will depend on abundant energy, too.

At Puget Power, we're committed to meeting the future energy needs of the Pacific Northwest. And we're working on the most environmentally responsible methods of power generation right now.

Because if there's a future generation gap, we're the ones who'll have to plug it.
